Who Should Take This Class?

This course will teach you the techniques of emergency oxygen administration for suspected diving injuries and nonfatal drowning. You will learn the fundamentals of recognizing dive-injuries along with response and management.

Class Description:

When a diving accident occurs, being able to recognize the problem and respond with the appropriate care can speed the diver's recovery and minimize lasting effects. Oxygen first aid provides needed oxygen to body tissues, enhances the elimination of inert gases such as nitrogen obtained from breathing gases, and helps shrink any gas bubbles that may have developed during ascent — bubbles that contribute to decompression sickness and arterial gas embolism.

Prerequisite:

You must be at least 10 years old.

Where:

The classroom sessions are offered onsite at Mermet Springs. For groups of 6 or more, you may be able to schedule the training at your location. Contact Glen@mermetsprings.com for inquiries about off-site training.

What Do I Need to Bring:

We recommend your CPR Certification prior to taking this course.
